Abbe Chartier,

Laval University.

Dear Abbe Chartier:

You are a member of a committee appointed at the last Conference of Canadian Universities to correspond with the British and French Universities with the view to securing such arrangements as will increase the number of our graduates who will turn to the Universities of Britain and France for advanced work.

I am enclosing to you a draft of a letter that I have written to the authorities of the British and to the French Universities. Will you be kind enough to make any suggestions that may occur to you and return it to me as soon as possible in order that the matter may be laid before these Universities at an early date ?

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dear Dr. Chartier:

Many thanks for your letter. I am glad to adopt your suggestions, and I am sending you the letters to the Universities of France including the Instituts Catholiques.

I accept your kind offer to make a translation with the English letters of each into French, and I hope that you will then send them directly to the addresses in France, as thereby we shall save time.

Will you be kind enough also to let me have a copy of the French translation so that I may include it in my report to the Committee ?

Yours sincerely,

President.
